Design a shield for a knight

Heraldry was devised so that knights could be identified on the battlefield. The shield was an important part of a knight's armour, but it also made up a key part of his heraldic design. Colours also played an important part, silver, gold, red, blue, green, purple and black. The knights shield may also have an animal on it.

- Think about what animal you would like to have on your shield and what it means to you.
- What else about your family or home would you want to represent on your shield?

“When the messenger rode across our narrow bridge, I was looking out of a window. My blood seemed to stop its journey around my body when I saw the livery of Uther Pendragon. That’s the second sight. All the women in our family have it to some extent...” In this dramatic retelling, based on Sir Thomas Malory’s Le Morte d’Arthur, Britain’s legendary King Arthur and the tales surrounding him are viewed from the perspective of eight women. Determined and resourceful, they drive the Camelot story through love, hate, intrigue, enchantment and tragedy as, one by one, their voices come swirling out of the mists of time to tell their stories
